Ed Cummings, a native of Ludlow, MA is General Manager—Engineering for the Chessie System, being in charge of Maintenance and Construction on their Northern Region. A life member, married with two sons and a grandson Ed began model railroading in 1935.

He started with tin-plate, graduated to outside third rail, O-scale, and commenced his first HO layout in 1957, the year he first joined NMRA. His present layout, the Blackwater Valley, is a joint venture with son, Tom. The name came from a road surveyed by Ed's grandfather in the state of New Hampshire in the 1870's. A new layout in a new home (23rd time Ed and his wife, Lee, have moved) is now under construction.

Since first joining NMRA, Ed has been a member of Mid-East, Mid-Central and North Central Regions. He has attended most of the Regional conventions and many National Conventions during the past ten years and has gained a great deal of personal satisfaction from model railroading over the years. He not only enjoys a sense of accomplishment in building, but the many friends he has made during his stint in the hobby.
